

One of the main purposes of the Law Faculty is to provide legal education. With respect to teaching, the Faculty follows the Bologna process. Moreover, the study programmes and organization of studies are based on university traditions of legal education.

The Faculty aims to provide a comprehensive theoretical and methodological preparation of students, which is focused on practical aspects of law and on the subsequent legal practice of students. Its activities are focused on teaching, interpretation and application of Slovak public and private law, international law and European law.